Fitting a Bike Helmet

1. Place the helmet square on the head so it is snug and covers a large portion of the forehead.

2. Adjust the side and chin straps so when buckled, the helmet does not move from side to side or slide back on the forehead.

3. One finger should fit between the chin and chin strap. Any more than that and the helmet is too loose.